Search for New Preschool Academy Principal Opens

Today, Hopkins House announced the start of a search to identify a new principal of its Helen Day Preschool Academy in Alexandria, Virginia. The current principal, Ms. Dawn Erasquin, is stepping down at the end of this month.

Announcement of the vacancy is available at:

//www.hopkinshouse.org/preschool-academy-principal-stepping-down/

A search committee, comprised of staff, parents, and trustees has been formed to aid in the search, which is expected to take at least a month:

1. Alvin T. Butler, Jr. (Administrator)
2. Annalize Holobaugh (Teacher)
3. Elizabeth Montford (Assistant Teacher)
4. Michaela Sinclair (Parent Council Officer)
5. Kelley Sparrow (Parent)

MEDIA CONTACT: J. Glenn Hopkins, 571-480-4094, Hopkins@HopkinsHouse.org

6. Crystal Thompson (Parent)
7. Daniel Wilson (Parent Council Officer)
8. Wayne Wright (Trustee)

The search committee will aid in advertising this career opportunity and soliciting applications; reviewing applications received; determining a list of applicants for consideration; interviewing applicants; and, recommending to the President a first and second choice of candidate for hire.

While the hope is to fill this position as soon as possible, President J. Glenn Hopkins has asked the committee to “take whatever time is needed to identify the best candidate possible to fill this critical leadership position at the head of our academy.”

The Academy Assistant Principal, Ms. Michelle Feh, will serve as Interim Principal during the search.
